LOCAL BREVITIES.

Judge Dinger fixed the bail in the case of Downs at $10,000, which has not yet been filled.

For first-class music, fine scenery, and excellent acting, the Williams Theatre Company "take the cake."

Hon. Thos. G. Foley left for Jefferson City on New Year's day. He will make a careful and attentive legislator.

A broad-gauge track is being laid between Middlebrook and Granite Quarry, and will be finished within a few weeks.

Thos. Beard, Esq., sent us, on Christmas eve, several bunches of very fine celery of his own raising. Thank you, friend Tom.

The Probate Docket for the February term is published in this issue. It is the new Judge's first official procedure, we believe.

The ice men are busily engaged, and, with one or two more "cold snaps," will perhaps succeed in harvesting a moderately full crop of ice.

The first snow of the winter—to amount to anything—fell Sunday night. Even it might have been much heavier without amounting to a blockade.

Fine ice-weather, this. The thermometer yesterday morning registered—2. Give us a week of the like, and then spring may come dancing in as soon as she will.

The holidays are gone and everybody has settled down to work again. The public schools resumed Tuesday morning, and the era of '83 is fairly entered upon.

Why is it that the towns of Pilot Knob and Trouton are higher than the balance of Southeast Missouri?—Piedmont Leader.

Because they're above the average. Ask us something hard.

We understand that $50 or more has been expended on the street running up on Zion's Hill, just north of the Ironton House. Isn't the cost of this improvement considerable, in comparison with the benefits it confers?

The deplorable accident near Middlebrook last Saturday, whereby Mr. Christian Osterle's son was killed, shocked the whole community, and his afflicted parents have the heartfelt sympathies of all who know them.

Some kind friend hung a can of oysters on the knob of our office door on New Year's Day. They were of the Rose brand, and very fine. Whoever the donor—and we suspect Bro. Hotson—we return to him our acknowledgements.

The "Sea of Ice" at the Academy of Music to-night. It is said to be one of the finest plays ever written, and this coupled with the fact that the Williams Theatre Company is the best that ever visited this section, will cram the house to-night.

The indebtedness on the M. E. Church Parsonage was paid off last week, and the society is now entirely free from debt. We congratulate them: indebtedness means worry; he who worries is irascible; and irascibility and Christianity don't consist, so to speak.

The members of Miller's band desire to return their acknowledgements for the kindness shown them by the good people of Piedmont. The following item from the Leader put them on their dignity: "The best music ever furnished in this place was furnished by Miller's Quadrille band, of Ironton last Wednesday night."

The married employees of the Granite Quarry were pleasantly surprised on Christmas eve, by their employer, V. E. Allen. That gentleman sent to each of them a dressed turkey, for which we have no doubt they felt duly grateful as they sat at table at dinner the ensuing day. They will all, no doubt, join us in wishing Mr. Allen many returns of the holidays.

Personal.

Mrs. M. J. Sanner left on Thursday last for Bunker Hill, Ill.

Miss Nellie Brierton, of Iron Mountain, was in town Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Walker left on Sunday for their home in Piedmont.

Mr. W. T. Edwards returned to St. Louis Tuesday to continue his study of medicine.

Mr. Thos. C. Brown, of Gunnison, Col., was in town this week, visiting his many friends.

Misses Henrietta Lopez, Rosa Hughes and Nettie Ake attended the ball at Piedmont last Wednesday.

Prof. Gustavus Dolfuss has removed his family to Ironton, and now occupies the Baldwin property.

Mr. T. A. Robinson is here from Ann Arbor, Mich., spending the holidays with his parents and many friends.

Miss Fannie Davidson, one of Potosi's fairest daughters, is spending a few days in Ironton, the guest of ye editor's family.

Miss Mamie Zwart left Sunday for St. Louis to be bridesmaid for her cousin, Miss Nettie Zwart, who is to be married today.

Mr. and Mrs. Wing and children, of Troy, Mo., and Miss Ruth May, of Krenlin Mills, spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Crumb. They left Tuesday for Troy.

Misses Jennie and Ella Pettit were in town Monday visiting their uncle, Mr. J. F. T. Edwards. They left Tuesday for Cape Girardeau, where they go to attend the Normal the ensuing year.

LOST—A cameo breastpin, sometime during the past three weeks. A liberal reward will be given for its return to Mrs. W. F. Wiesner, Ironton.

DIED—At the residence of Mrs. P. V. Sullivan, near Ironton, on Wednesday, December 13, 1882, HENRY JONES, of consumption, aged 67 years and five months. The quiet and rest of eternity are his.

On the night of Wednesday, December 27th, the oldest child of Mr. Nelson Campbell, died of membranous croup. He was about three years of age.

"Leaves have their time to fall, And flowers to wither at the north wind's breath; But, though relentless monster, claimest all, And hast all seasons for thine own, O Death."

We print in another column the prospectus of the St. Louis Weekly Post-Dispatch, a large, eight-page paper, which is furnished at the remarkably low rate of fifty cents per year. To those who desire a city weekly we can cordially recommend the Post-Dispatch. It is an independent newspaper, clear in tone and full of entertaining reading matter. Its market reports are especially fully and trustworthy. It is really surprising that a paper so excellent in every respect can be furnished so cheaply, but, with modern machinery and broad facilities, the Post-Dispatch can be produced at a cost very little above the white paper.

One week ago we turned over a new leaf and actually got on the cars and went down to Piedmont. Neither door nor wreck interrupted the journey, and we landed safely, with time enough at our disposal to see the town before the shades of evening shut out the world. The place is business all over, destined at no distant day to eclipse a good many railroad towns which have been soundering their howlages and beating their cymbals while Piedmont has quietly bided its time. We found the people all that any visitor could desire, and desire to return thanks for a kind reception and good treatment. The Masquerade Ball which was the reason of our going—was a grand affair, some eighty couples appearing in costume. The supper at the Commercial Hotel was excellent, and ample justice was done thereto.

The Williams Theatre Company have been and now are giving a series of entertainments in the Academy of Music. Monday afternoon and evening and Tuesday evening our people witnessed their renditions of "Kathleen Mavourneen," "Fanchon," and "The Octoroon," and in every instance the large audiences were delighted. The members of the company are ladies and gentlemen of as well as on the stage, and win golden opinions from all. We have resided in Ironton over a quarter of a century, but never during that time have we attended entertainments so commendable in every respect as those given by this troupe. So far, their success here has been unexampled, and proves that our people still patronize liberally a deserving amusement. Monday and Tuesday nights our ample hall was filled with some of the best people of the Valley, who gave frequent vent to their satisfaction in loud applause. We do not make special mention of any of the actors, for we are no dramatic critic; but the whole troupe is good, and the orchestra better than some we have heard in reputable places of amusement in large cities. We commend these people to our brethren of the southeast as honest, gifted and painstaking professionals who understand well their exits and their entrances, and who never lose their cues.

The next session of the Association will be held at the Ironton Public School building on Saturday, January 6. The program will consist of a paper, "Colonial Period of American History," by Thos. Calahan; Institute work, "Civil Government," by C. L. Elough; a paper, "Adaptation of Missouri School Law to its People," by H. C. Davis; Institute work, "Advanced Grammar," by A. P. Vance; a paper, "The Teacher and the Institute," by C. L. Elough; papers by Mrs. Lyman, Miss Schneider and Prof. F. C. Miller, and Query Box. Plenty of music will be provided.

The State vs. C. A. Downs.

As noticed in the REGISTER of December 28th, the preliminary examination in the case was begun the preceding Friday. It continued four days, closing late on Wednesday night. We are not at liberty to say anything that would prejudice public opinion on the merits of the case, but the public will bear us out in saying, that a case which called into play all the power of W. R. Edgar and L. F. Dinning as opposing attorneys, and of Justice Dinger, as judge, for four days, was well handled. The prisoner was held to bail in the sum of ten thousand dollars, which at last accounts he had not furnished.

Free of Cost.

All persons wishing to test the merits of a great remedy—one that will positively cure Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, or any affection of the Throat and Lungs—are requested to call at the Pilot Knob Drug Store and get a Trial Bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption free of cost, which will show you what a regular dollar-size bottle will do.

Pilot Knob Items.

The holidays have passed with very little public festivities.

A protracted meeting is in progress this week at the Union Church, by Rev. Jos. Mailatt.

Miss Jennie Craine, who is taking a course of musical instruction at some institution of St. Louis, is spending her holidays at home.

Mr. Fred Weidman, who is employed in Wayne county during the winter, spent holidays with his wife, and daughter, Mrs. F. C. Miller.

Mr. Alfred C. Jaquith came home from Rolla last week, where he has been attending school, to spend the holidays with parents and friends. Will return soon.

With the death of Mrs. Immer, which occurred last week, passed away the oldest individual in our midst—perhaps the oldest in the county. She was well and favorably known as a most devout Christian lady. Services were had at the Catholic Church, of which she was a member.

The amount of yelling and shooting done on the back streets of our town Sunday evening, is disposed to disgust people with such so-called "personal liberty." Foreigners, on coming to America, should be compelled to respect the usages of this country, whether they accord with their foreign notions or not.

Pilot Knob Lodge, A. O. U. W. elected officers Friday evening for the incoming year as follows: W. G. Dilts, P. M. W.; J. M. Peace, M. W.; A. L. Bowman, F.; J. J. McFarland, O.; F. C. Miller, R.; Aug. Wagoner, Financier; W. G. Dilts, Receiver; Robt. Kidd, L. W.; Robt. Trauernicht, O. W.; Dr. G. W. Farrar, Medical Examiner; Neugen Kidd, Trustee. The installation of officers will take place next Friday night.

ITEMIZER.

DIED—On Dec. 26, at 10 A. M., Mrs. EMMA HELEN DELANO, beloved wife of William H. Delano, aged 32 years, 4 months and 29 days.

Mrs. Wm. H. Delano, whose death was noticed in last week's issue of this paper, was the youngest child of Rev. John Donaldson. Her corpse arrived at Ironton on Wednesday, and the funeral services were held at the Presbyterian Church on Thursday morning. They consisted of music by the choir, the reading of the 14th chapter of the Book of Job and an extract from 4th chapter of 1st Thess., 13th and 18th verses inclusive, by Rev. A. W. Wright. The reading was in true spirit of the text, and was followed by a very impressive prayer. Rev. J. C. Berryman, who had known the deceased from her childhood, made a very touching and appropriate address, sketching the leading events of her life and bearing a just but inadequate testimony to her great moral worth. The house was well filled during the services, and about fifty persons attended the body to the grave.

Mrs. Delano was born near Russellville, Logan county, Kentucky, Aug. 6, 1850, and removed thence with her parents to Cape Girardeau, in this State, where they for some length of time resided, and whence they came to this place, where the remaining years of her life were spent.

June 13, 1877, she graduated with honor at Arcadia College, then in charge of Rev. J. C. Berryman.

June 13, 1871, she was married to Mr. Delano, to whom she was a loving and faithful wife, a true helpmeet. She became the devoted mother of three boys—one taken to the world beyond some two years since. Freddie, 8 years old, and Lewis, an infant 9 months old, are bereft of a mother's care and love.

She united with the Presbyterian Church of Ironton in her girlhood, and it was her earnest endeavor to lead the life of a true Christian.

Her departure to that "Better Land," though a happy release for her, is a great affliction to her relatives and friends. "The can only say, 'God's will, not mine, be done,' for 'He doeth all things well.'"

The sympathies of the entire community are deeply stirred, and involuntarily go out toward her bereaved husband and motherless children, her afflicted and aged parents and her only sister. May they feel that the flower of their hearts has been transplanted to the "Garden of their Lord," who does not willingly afflict the children of men, but for some good purpose has called her before them to be another link in the chain that binds their hearts to Heaven.

A FRIEND.
